Tutoring Experience

My journey as a tutor began two years ago, teaching IGCSE and A-Level English. I've worked with students from diverse academic backgrounds, helping them excel in areas such as essay writing, critical analysis, and comprehension. Many of my students have successfully applied their learning to secure excellent grades and admission to prestigious institutions.

In addition to guiding students through exam preparation, I've assisted IB learners with their Extended Essays and A-Level students with in-depth literature reviews. My experience spans working with various curricula and addressing the unique needs of individual learners, ensuring they gain confidence and excel in their studies.
